IL POGGIO DEI 4 BORGHI – THE ORIGINS

The hills around Fermo are a magical place. Personally, I was fascinated by this place in 2013, during one of my trips into this region, in search of natural wines, one of my passions.

I met welcoming people, I tried food prepared with genuine ingredients, unmistakably typical wine, everything in an all-Italian setting of suggestive medieval villages that arise here and there, on the gentle hills of the Lower Marche.

At that time, I was living in Milan and held an important position in a well-known coffee company. I had a really good time and enjoyed that period a lot. But a little voice inside me always suggested that one day I should have made a change, that I should have tried something inspired by my passions, that I should have dared more.

This is how, brick after brick, I began to build my future in this place, a future in which I would like work and fun to be one and the same.

My passions are wine (I took a sommelier diploma), food, coffee (I'm a professional trainer for the Specialty Coffee Association), food pairings, sport and good company. I would like to share at least some of these things with you, through the proposals you will find below.

Wish you a nice stay at Poggio dei 4 Borghi!
